Your soil tells the story.

Creating a sustainable, healthy, chemical free lawn begins by understanding what is happening biologically in your soil. The soil holds the main clues in terms of why a lawn is thriving or struggling. By understanding your property's soil structure and soil composition, we can take the next step to a healthy and sustainable lawn!

This is a collaborative project between Merrimack County Conservation District and NOFA-NH with funding from the National Association of Conservation Districts' Urban Conservation Grant
